What is Doge2014 (DOGE14)?

In meme coin landscape, Dogecoin holds a special place as a symbol of community, humor, and innovation. Doge2014 is a crypto project celebrating the 10th anniversary of Dogecoin, offering tokens at the nostalgic 2014 Dogecoin price and providing opportunities for staking and community rewards. Doge2014 (DOGE14) is an ERC20 token built on the Ethereum blockchain, representing an important part of crypto history. Specifically crafted to celebrate the 10-year anniversary of Dogecoin, Doge2014 (DOGE14) aims to provide enthusiasts with a means to participate in commemorating this significant milestone in the history of Dogecoin.

Doge2014 Tokenomics

Doge2014's tokenomics are carefully planned to support its growth and provide value to holders. The total supply is 100 billion DOGE14 tokens, with the allocation distributed like this:

- 60% for the presale, so early supporters can get tokens at a price similar to Dogecoin's 2014 value.
- 25% for staking rewards to encourage long-term holding and network participation.
- 10% for liquidity to ensure stable trading conditions on decentralized exchanges
- 5% for marketing efforts to drive adoption and awareness

This balanced way of distributing tokens aims to create a healthy system that can support long-term growth and get a variety of people involved.

Doge2014 (DOGE14) Roadmap

Doge14's potential to do better than other meme coins can be reflected in its clear project plan and roadmap. The roadmap crafted by Doge2014 project team outlines its growth plans comprehensively including pre-sale phases, marketing expansion, exchange listings, future development among other stages.

The roadmap includes four phases:

Phase One: Presale Phase

Initiate the Doge2014 project with a token presale to celebrate Dogecoin and build a strong community foundation.

Phase Two: Expansion Phase

Expand the Doge2014 community through marketing campaigns, partnerships, and social media engagement.

Phase Three: Exchange Listing Phase

Officially launch the Doge2014 token on major cryptocurrency exchanges, ensuring widespread accessibility and adoption.

Phase Four: Future Development Phase

Celebrate major achievements with the community and plan for future developments and enhancements to the Doge2014 ecosystem.

Doge2014 (DOGE14) Staking

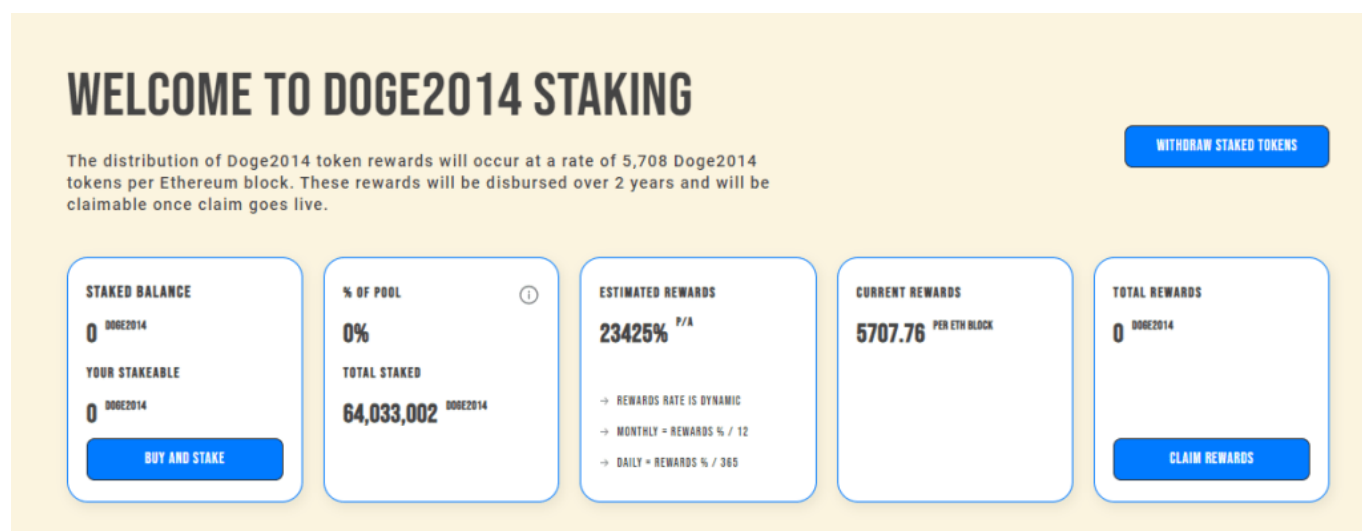

In contrast to Dogecoin, DOGE2014 also offers staking opportunities. Doge2014 token holders can lock up their holdings and earn passive income through a staking system.

Doge2014 holders will have the opportunity to stake their tokens and earn passive income. Staking provides a mechanism for holders to be rewarded with additional tokens.

The process enhances the network's security as participants' stakes are used in the validation process, and new blocks are added to the blockchain.

Staking distributes decision-making power in a crypto ecosystem, making it more decentralized. Moreover, users are remunerated through passive income generated from the staking process, which automatically augments their token holdings.

That means by staking Doge2014, holders can further engage with the community and participate in the ongoing success of the project as they celebrate this significant milestone for Dogecoin.

Doge2014 (DOGE14) Presale

The team of Doge2014 already launched presale, and this project is now in phase six where the goal is to expand the project with marketing efforts. According to its tokenomics, 60% of the total token supply will be allocated to its presale, when early supporters can get tokens at a price similar to Dogecoin's 2014 value.

So far, with one DOGE2014 token trading at a discounted price of $0.00033, Doge2014 presale offers early investors a good opportunity to join in this promising project.

There is only less than four days left before its price jump in next stage. Although the price is expected to increase at different stages of the presale, the project aims to sell the token around Doge's 2014 price. Notably, this token secured over $100,000 within hours of the presale.

As of writing the article in October 16, Doge2014 has raised more than $569,390 in its presale, indicating huge demand from crypto enthusiasts.

The presale gives early access to tokens and helps with the project's first liquidity and marketing. This team-up approach to launching DOGE14 matches the community-driven spirit that has made meme coins so popular and successful.

Furthermore, DOGE14 token is scheduled to launch at a price of $0.000348. The team also announced that they will burn 50% of the total supply after launch which could cause the price to skyrocket.

Besides, Doge2014 also provides token bonuses for presale participants, depending on the amount invested. An investment of more than $100 offers over 35,000 bonus tokens to users.

Other bonus amounts based on the amount invested are summarized in the following illustration:

- $5,000+: over 8,000,000 bonus tokens
- $1,000+: over 1,000,000 bonus tokens
- $500+: over 250,000 bonus tokens

Your Bonus Doge2014:	1500000

After the presale, participants can claim their purchased DOGE2014 tokens and the various bonuses and rewards they might have acquired during the presale stage.

Notably, after the presale is over, the DOGE2014 team plans to launch the token on major crypto exchanges. This can help in giving better exposure and liquidity.

Doge2014 (DOGE14) Airdrop

Through its official X account, Doge2014 token has unveiled an exhilarating update, announcing a special perk exclusively for VIP buyers within its presale event. This presale introduces a unique benefit for VIP buyers: a free Dogecoin airdrop.

To qualify for VIP status, investors must purchase $1000 or more worth of Doge2014 tokens. The airdrop pool size increases based on the total amount raised, ranging from 2% to 5% of funds.

The decision to distribute Dogecoin as airdrop rewards has potentially sparked speculation and fear, uncertainty, and doubt (FUD) among investors regarding its potential implications on the demand for Doge2014. To address this, the developers have announced that the airdrop will not affect the value of DOGE2014 tokens.

Here's a detailed outline of the airdrop distribution:

If the team raises ranging from 500,000 to 4,999,999, they will allocate 2% of the total funds raised exclusively for purchasing Dogecoin. If the funds exceed this threshold, the percentage used for buying Dogecoin increases accordingly.

As the presale progresses, reaching new funding milestones triggers an incremental increase of 1% in the Dogecoin purchase allocation at each subsequent level.

This trend persists until the presale surpasses the $10 million mark, at which point a fixed 5% of the total funds raised is designated for buying Dogecoin.

Upon the conclusion of the presale, the purchased Dogecoin will be distributed, with the distribution ratio determined by the overall funds raised or the milestone achieved. Notably, the purchased Dogecoin will then be distributed to VIP members alone based on their shares in the airdrop pool.
