About NIO Stock

NIO Inc is a multinational EV manufacturer that is based in Shanghai, China. The company was founded in 2014 by Lihong Qin and William Li as NextEV. The company rebranded and relaunched in 2017, however, this time as Nio Inc, which is best known for its revolutionary take on batteries.

NIO Inc is involved in everything from the design to the production of a wide array of electric cars, especially electric SUVs. At the same time, the company is involved in the production of charging solutions and other aspects of the electric car value chain.

As one of China's top 6 manufacturers, Nio Inc hit a major milestone in mid-2022 by delivering its 218,000th vehicle. It is expected to be one of the biggest competitors to top electric car manufacturers like Tesla (TSLA) going into the future.

Other notable NIO Inc competitors are as below:

- Rivian Automotive (RIVN)
- Honda Motor (HMC)
- Lucid Group (LCID)

NIO Inc is often taunted as the Tesla of the electric car market. One of the main reasons it constantly makes it to the list of high-potential stocks to buy now is its core market. NIO is heavily focused on the Chinese electric car market, one of the largest EV markets in the world. As such, there are huge expectations that NIO's stock price will increase as the demand for electric vehicles grows in China.

With the increased decoupling between the US and China, the odds are that NIO Inc could play a more important role in the Chinese market relative to foreign competitors. This could play into its revenues and value growth over time.

NIO Stock News

The NIO stock price has remained under pressure even after Chinese companies continue their manufacturing process with the end of its Covid-zero strategy.

The most recent Nio stock news was the company's deliveries. In a report, the company said that its deliveries increased by 60% year-over-year in the fourth-quarter. It delivered over 40,000 in the three months to December. In total, the company delivered over 122k cars in 2022, which was about 34% higher than in the previous year. The company has delivered over 289k cars and analysts believe that the trend will continue.

Second, Nio is also expanding its business in Europe.. It has already opened a battery swap station in Germany, where it expects to gain market share. The company has also launched two swap stations in Norway, one of the biggest EV countries in the industries. By 2025, Nio hopes to have more than 4,000 battery swap stations globally, with over 1,000 overseas.

Nio remained in a loss-making territory. Its net loss for the quarter was RMB 4.1 billion, a significant increase from what it made in the previous year. The statement added that:

“Net loss attributable to NIO's ordinary shareholders in the third quarter was RMB 4.1 billion, representing an increase of 44.9% year-over-year 50.9% quarter-over-quarter.”

Meanwhile, analysts at UBS slashed the company's guidance. In a note, Paul Gong said that the Chinese EV market was cooling down. There was also an unpredictable delivery time. In a note, he said:

“Despite three new models launched in 2022, Nio's monthly sales volumes did not show obvious improvement, due to internal cannibalisation and limited differentiation, in our view.”

Key Factors that Affect the NIO Stocks Price

Fundamentals are the most important factors when looking to invest in a stock. Below are some of the core factors that could play into NIO's price in short to long term.

- EV Market growth. NIO is one of the largest electric vehicle companies in China. Demand for electric vehicles is the most important factor that affects the price of NIO. A great increase in vehicle deliveries could play well into the NIO value growth. In recent years the EV market has experienced substantial growth. If that growth continues and demand rises even further, it could have a positive impact on NIO stock price.
- Competition. It is important to note that the EV industry has become increasingly competitive as new companies join the sector and established ones move into it. To remain competitive, NIO has to keep innovating and find a way to grow its market share. Possibly NIO's biggest competitor is well known electric vehicle manufacturer Tesla. If it wants to succeed, it will likely have to fend off its competitors.
- Manufacturing. NIO currently uses other companies for its manufacturing process. However, the contract with its current manufacturer runs up to 2024. If the deal is not extended, Nio will have to build its own factory, which will not only be costly, but will take a lot of time.

Historical NIO Stock Price

To make an informed decision when investing in the stock market, it is always important to look at its price history. This can give you an idea of whether you are buying high or low. Of course, you also have to take a keen look at the fundamentals as they have a huge role to play in the price going into the future.

- NIO Price at inception: NIO started trading in September 2018 and, at the time, was priced at $5.3.
- NIO Highest Price: NIO hit an all-time high of $62.84 in February 2021.
- NIO Lowest Price: NIO hit an all-time low of $1.51 in October 2019.

Like most stocks, NIO shares had its best time in 2020 and early 2021. However, it has since been on a downtrend, especially struggling all the way last year. The geopolitical issues, coupled with rising global inflation, have impacted NIO and many other stocks.
