Pi Coin Price Plummets As Pi Network Users Become Impatient

Key Takeaways:

- Users on the Pi Network were unhappy with the lack of information on the mainnet debut of Pi.
- The PI Coin price chart shows a bearish tendency.
- Pi Network has decided to unveil its route map in the fourth quarter of 2023.

If comments on X (previously Twitter) are any indicator, Pi Network, a mobile crypto mining service, may be losing customers due to delays in the introduction of the Pi mainnet.

Users have been waiting anxiously for the Pi Network's open mainnet launch, which has been a source of disagreement among the network's supporters. Users have begun to doubt the true motives of the Pi Network team because of the delays.

🌟🌟 Breaking news: Pi founder @nkokkalis expects to launch Pi mainnet roadmap v1 in mid-October, followed by v2 in Q4. 🚀

The authenticity of this message has been verified.

Dr. Nicolas Kokkalis, CEO of Pi Network, recently revealed that the rollout of the Pi roadmap would be pushed back. Dr. Kokkalis announced the roadmap would be released in two installments, with V1 coming in mid-October and V2 following in Q4.

Since Pi Network had earlier declared a September 2023 date for the roadmap's release, the news irritated users. Moreover, a number of individuals pointed out that the middle of October fell in Q4 2023, which has led to rumors of further delays.

Like the Pi mainnet debut, members of the Pi Network continue to believe that the roadmap launch will be delayed.

Is the Pi Mainnet Delay On Purpose?

An X user by the name of Pi Inu Token recently made a post on the social network alleging that the Pi Network development team has no intentions to launch the mainnet anytime soon. The Pi Inu Token anticipated the mainnet launch of Pi to occur in stages.

Furthermore, the user said that while the Pi core team is situated in the US, developers might not authorize a payout because the majority of PI coin holders “are distributed in China, Vietnam, Nigeria, the Philippines, and other countries.”

If the current marketable quantity is confirmed, a tremendous amount of money will leave the United States. This money includes the proceeds from the sale of assets by current cryptocurrency holders as well as future inflows. The PiCore team in the United States would never intentionally harm a user. According to what Pi Inu Token wrote,

The user went on to say that after the mainnet went live, the Pi Network developers would probably redistribute users’ token holding to prevent wealth concentration.

One customer complained about the length of time it was taking for their Know Your Customer

(KYC) application to be processed, highlighting the need for Pi Network developers to address KYC issues in the meanwhile.

A Bearish Pattern Emerges in the PI Coin Price

In the meantime, a descending triangle, a bearish chart pattern, has developed in PI coin price.

The pattern is formed by a descending trendline that joins reaction highs and a horizontal trendline that joins reaction lows. The pattern is commonly seen as a warning for traders to sell short an asset.

PI coin price formed a bearish pattern with a -39.2% price target.

The price objective of a descending triangle pattern is equal to the height of the triangle's broadest base. According to the principles of technical analysis, the value of a single PI coin might fall by as much as 39 percent, to a price goal of $24.2.

The Value of Pi Network Tokens Continues to Fall

The value of Pi Network tokens has been fluctuating sideways, recently approaching a support level at $36.5. The 200-day exponential moving average (green wave) for Pi Coin also serves as a dynamic support level for the area (purple box). Before bulls stepped in to defend the support zone, the token lost 7.1%, reaching a daily low near $38.

PIUSDT daily price chart with RSI

If the nearby support fails, however, PI price may head toward the $32 support area marked by the 100-day exponential moving average (blue wave).

However, if the PI coin price is able to recover from here, it may be able to break over the 20-day exponential moving average (red wave) and test the $43.34 resistance level. If the Pi Network token price can overcome the nearby obstacle, it might reach the next level of resistance near $48.6.

On daily charts, the RSI for PI coin held at 49.76, which indicates a neutral reading.
